Workshop international

Modelling Urbanisation in Archaeology

Organisation :
Dmytro Kiosak (GPR Human Past)
dmytro.kiosak@u-bordeaux-montaigne.fr & Natacha Trippé (MCF histoire de l'art et archéologie du monde grec antique) natacha.trippe@u-bordeaux-montaigne.fr

Atelier organisé dans le cadre de l'action « Villes » du Grand Programme de Recherche Human Past

26 janvier 2024

Odéon de l'Archéopôle
8 esplanade des Antilles
Université Bordeaux Montaigne

9h00 : accueil des participants

9h15-9h35 : Natacha Trippé (Ausonius, UBM), Dmytro Kiosak (GPR Human Past)~Introduction : Presentation of Action "Villes" of GPR 'Human Past' – Aims and goals

9h40–10h10 : Oliver Nakoinz (Christian-Albrechts-Universität zu Kiel) : Modelling Urbanity as Process

10h15-10h45 : Iza Romanowska (Aarhus University) : What makes a city tick: Agent-based modelling of urban systems (by zoom)

Pause

11h00-11h30 : Hector A. Orengo (Catalan Institute of Classical Archaeology) : C*omputational approaches to early urbanism through the analysis of movement, commerce, and connectivity*

11h35-12h05 : Pau de Soto Cañamares (Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona) : Roman transport networks and the territorial configuration of the Iberian Peninsula (by zoom)

12h10-12h40 : Clara Filet (Ausonius, UBM) : Was the urban development shaped by mobility? Exchange networks and the emergence of agglomerations in Gaul (3rd to 1st c. BCE)

Discussions

13h15-14h30 : Pause déjeuner

14h30-15h15 : Works of members of the Action Villes : Anne Colin (Ausonius), Eneko Hiriart (Archéosciences), Ézéchiel Jean-Courret (Ausonius, UBM), Francis Tassaux (Ausonius) : Urbanisation in Aquitaine from Iron Age through to the Middle Ages

15h15–16h15 : Methodological reflexions: how to model urbanisation in the Aquitanian case?